Hello, let me introduce myself

My name is Wathinee Saeaui.

You can call me Wawa.

I'm 21 years old.

I am studying at Walailak University in school of Engineering and Technology.

My major is Computer Engineering.

My hobbies are reading book surfing the internet and learning online course. They are all have a lot of knowledge.

During my time at university, I was involved in a variety of activities. StartUp training, C language training, and the NSC 2021 competition are all part of this. These events allow me to put my expertise to work while also learning something new.

In my last year of university, I would like to find an internship program that would allow me to profit from my education while also providing me with hands-on experience.

So, I'm interested in Western Digital, which I've heard of as a big company. famous in computer business have a good image reliable There is a systematic work and welfare for intern. It made me feel that if I did my internship here. I will receive good welfare I will be able to put my expertise to good use. Gain work experience and new information that may be applied to future jobs.

My future career path is to be a mobile application developer, software tester frontend developer or have a good job with a stable salary and can support my family or may continue to study to learn more and develop myself in this career. especially If I go to work abroad, having worked for a well-known company, I feel myself to be successful in the position that I most desire.

I'm hoping to have the chance to intern with this company. Thank you.
